

Mapping out your road...

Do you dare to live to your capabilities?

How do you arrive at the decisions that determine your career as a PhD graduate? The options may be far more extensive than you may imagine, especially in today's world. So what is going to determine these choices? Your knowledge, your capabilities, opportunities that just happen to arise?

We challenge you to discover your PhD Power and the internal factors that drive you in what you do. The question then becomes: To what extent will you dare to let your true motivation determine your career path?

Both trainers are PhD graduates and pursued research careers. When they took the leap and applied their PhD skills outside research, it resulted in unexpected but successful and rewarding career paths.

...as a science professional a 2-day retreat for PhDs & postdocs

'Taking a break from the everyday working routine to discover what really matters to you in your work life.'

'It is good to think about the next step before the actual time of making decisions.'

'If you do only one course, do this one'

'Lasting positive impact on your life and career'

The retreat will be held at a wonderful and quiet place in the centre of the Netherlands, in the middle of a great nature reserve.

The programme includes:

- Getting acquainted with your real skills
- Taking a new look at the possibilities that are open to you
- Analyzing your motivational drive
- Making your intrinsic motivation work for you
- Working on your networking skills
- Preparing a plan with the very concrete first steps of your unique journey
